

HOLOCAUST MUSEUM HOUSTON

STOP HATE. STARTING HERE.

The Warren Fellowship for Future Teachers

May 19 - 24, 2014

For their support of the Warren Fellowship for Future Teachers, Holocaust Museum Houston thanks the Naomi and Martin Warren Family Foundation and United Airlines, the official airline of Holocaust Museum Houston.

It is thus in the interest of humanity - both morally and practically - to oppose the crime against humanity that is genocide.

Dr. Adam Jones, Genocide: A Comprehensive Introduction, 2nd edition, 2010

It is important to understand that ... big changes, the kind that transform the way human beings handle being human, start with small changes.

Naomi Warren

"His Name Was Raoul Wallenberg," Louise Borden

"His Name Was Raoul Wallenberg" is an amazing and inspirational World War II story about how one man saved the lives of many. Raoul Wallenberg was a Swedish humanitarian who worked in Budapest during World War II to rescue Jews from the Holocaust. He did this by issuing protective passports and housing Jews in buildings established as Swedish territory, saving tens of thousands of lives. Louise Borden researched Wallenberg's life for many years, visiting with his family and the site of his childhood home, and learned his story from beginning to end. Borden is a children's author who has had numerous books published. Warren Fellows, we are registered to attend, and in case you have family or friends who would like to attend, tickets are $5 for HMH members, seniors and students and $8 for nonmembers, and seating is limited. To RSVP online, visit www.hmh.org/RegisterEvent.aspx. For more information, e-mail events@hmh.org.
