

From darkness, light.

In response to the Uvalde, Texas mass shooting:

Holocaust Museum Houston stands with Uvalde in the aftermath of the tragedy experienced by their community. We mourn with the families of the 19 students and two teachers killed in this senseless attack. As an organization, the Museum works to serve educators and students daily, providing a safe space to learn the dangers of hatred, prejudice, and apathy. We know far too well the trauma that such horrific acts of violence leave in their wake. We are here to support local educators and students during this time of mourning.

Sincerely,
