

COEXISTENCE

Be a part of Coexistence and take the #CoexistChallenge!

Throughout history young people have been using their voices to express ideas and to evoke change in their world; speaking out against injustice; working towards political, social, environmental and economic change. They speak of hope and dream for a better and more just society. From secretly writing pamphlets denouncing Adolf Hitler and the Nazis in 1930s Germany, to demanding equality by sitting at a “white’s only” lunch counter in the 1960s to seeing students leading the conversation on gun reform, youth activism has shown us the impact and positive ripple effect that young peoples’ voices and artistic expression can have on society.

Please respond to the artwork and quotes found in Coexistence and show us through your own artwork and quote how you feel about the idea of coexistence. <sup>1</sup>

How to take part:

1. Start by viewing the existing artwork and quotes that are a part of Holocaust Museum Houston’s Coexistence exhibition Art in Hermann Park.
2. Create your own unique artwork, reflecting on the theme of coexistence.
3. Upload your creation to Instagram. Add a quote that speaks to you as the caption if you want to do so. Make sure to use #CoexistChallenge so others can experience your art.

HOLOCAUST MUSEUM HOUSTON

<sup>1</sup> Adapted from the Virginia Holocaust Museum