Holocaust Museum Houston (HMH) condemns the murder of George Floyd, a native son of Houston, as well as the recent slayings of Ahmaud Arbery, and Breonna Taylor. We grieve with the families, our city and the country. We stand with African Americans and all communities that have endured systemic racism and violence. Holocaust Museum Houston is resolved to confront hate in all its forms.

In the nation's most diverse city, HMH's vision is of a society that transforms ignorance into respect for human life. We are all called to action when confronted with the dehumanization and persecution of any community. Together, we will continue our mission and vision – to remember the Holocaust, and to affirm an individual's responsibility for the collective actions of society. In the words of Martin Luther King, Jr., "Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere."
